

help protect your client's business against the unexpected

Business Overhead Expense

If your client was to incur a disability, how would the doors of their business remain open during his or her recovery?

The bills don't stop just because your client can't work. Don't leave your clients without a plan. BOE insurance offers protection by reimbursing normal and customary expenses necessary to maintain the business in the event of a disability.

Discuss the following features with your business owner.

- Accumulation Benefit
If the covered overhead expenses during any month of total disability are more than the available monthly benefit, the unpaid balance may be carried forward in following months when actual expenses are less than the available monthly benefit.
- Covered Expenses
Includes items such as lease or mortgage payments, employee salaries, utilities, taxes, maintenance services, substitute salaries and accounting service fees.
- Extended Residual Rider
Extends the built-in six month residual to the length of the benefit period; it can continue to pay beyond the maximum benefit period.
- Business Loan Repayment Rider
This rider reimburses the portion of principal and interest of a specified business-related loan obligation.
- Finder Fee Benefit
Reimburses up to a maximum benefit of $5,000, for the cost of a professional employment agency to find a substitute to perform the duties of the owner during his or her disability.
- Legal and Accounting Fees
While receiving disability benefits, legal and accounting fees are reimbursed up to a maximum benefit of $5,000, if your client terminates or sells their ownership interest of the business, as a result of the disability.
- Workplace Modification
While receiving benefits—and it is determined that a modification to the insured's workplace would be appropriate to allow him or her to return to work—we will reimburse a portion or all of the expense of that modification.
